Property Description

Step inside this captivating traditional-style corner home nestled in the picturesque equestrian area of Glendale. This property is a true gem that has been adored and meticulously maintained by the owner for many years. The moment you enter the home, you are greeted by the beautiful hardwood floors that run throughout. There is a spacious living room that is perfect for cozying up on cool nights by the fireplace and gazing out of the large bay window. The dining room offers a serene setting with several windows that provide a perfect view of the majestic horses passing by. The home features two bedrooms that are spacious and comfortable with a den that can be used as a bedroom. This charming room has its own fireplace and numerous windows that offer a serene view of the backyard. The kitchen features natural wood cabinetry and opens onto one of two covered patios, perfect for outdoor dining and entertaining. The bathrooms have been updated with modern fixtures and are in pristine condition. There is a laundry room that is conveniently attached to the garage, which also features an attached covered patio. Perfectly situated the two-car garage has great ADU possibilities as it faces Jesse St. This tranquil and friendly neighborhood is just blocks away from the Equestrian Center, where you can enjoy horseback riding and other activities. Restaurants and Griffith Park are also nearby, providing plenty of entertainment options.
